Who Attends?

Camp Eagle is open to 60 incoming first-year students with proven high school leadership experience. These students will develop more leadership skills and build friendships with other rising student leaders. Camp Eagle participants will create the foundation to continue their involvement in service, student activities and student organizations once at USI.

Activities at Camp Eagle are led by USI faculty, staff and USI Student Leaders known as the Eagle Leaders!

Why Attend?

Above all, you should attend because Camp Eagle is fun! But also, Camp Eagle is your opportunity to dive into leadership opportunities at USI. You will meet current USI student leaders and staff who will help you plug into fun and enriching student activities and organizations. You will meet other incoming freshmen who share these same desires to be a leader in college and start making connections with faculty and staff who are dedicated to helping you reach your full leadership potential.

Where is Camp Eagle?

Camp Eagle is held on the University of Southern Indiana's campus. Even though we call it "Camp", participants will be staying in the comfort of one of USI's residence halls. While most of the activities during the camp will occur on campus, a few activities will require off-campus transportation which will be provided by the University.
