Internships/Co-ops

"My internships presented me the opportunity to apply my college education, and I quickly found out that my university did an excellent job of exposing me to the accounting concepts that I would be utilizing,"

—Taylor Adkins

There is little that is more fulfilling than seeing your education come to life in a real-world setting. Internships and co-ops offer this experience to students, and allow them to explore careers that they are passionate about. University of Southern Indiana's Romain School of Business gives its students opportunities to expand and apply their knowledge through a variety of available internships! Learn more here.
