

How can I use AI in course design?

In these videos, I use AI tools to automate many everyday tasks.

This task offloading gives me time to critically analyze connections to objectives, refine assessment items and other complex tasks.

Create Rubrics

Speed up the task of rubric creation. Train the AI on your guidelines for the assignment, and work together to refine robust, substantive rubrics students that can use to understand how they will be assessed.

Create items from video

Just like magic, AI can help you create questions that students can interact with while watching your video or VoiceThread lectures.

Create items from text

Train AI on your Text material and work with it to create items for formative knowledge checks or test bank items.

Create announcements

Train AI on your module to create weekly course announcements in seconds.
